

EVENT LOGISTICS ROLES AT THRESHOLD SPORTS

About Threshold

At Threshold Sports we create extraordinary outdoor challenges with extraordinary outcomes for people of all abilities whether they be employees in global companies, celebrities or just plucky individuals looking for a challenge. We do this because we believe that More Is In You™.

We believe people have tremendous potential to achieve more than they ever thought possible and to prove it we create challenges to test people's very fibre and spirit. We support them every inch of the way and they discover there's always one more footstep, one more pedal turn, one more morsel of determination to get them to the finish line.

Our events serve a holistic purpose: getting people fitter and healthier, bonding people through shared endeavour, fostering better team work, raising stacks of cash for charities, providing a healthier way to get to know clients and giving those that take part a greater sense of self-esteem, optimism and resilience.

We're the company that got David Walliams down the Thames and Davina McCall from Edinburgh to London in aid of Sport Relief. We're the company that takes a thousand riders a thousand miles from Lands End to John O'Groats every year through the Deloitte Ride Across Britain. And we're the company behind BP's Olympic ambassador sponsorship campaign, working with the likes of Jess Ennis and Richard Whitehead before the public even knew who they were.

The people who work at Threshold are united by a love of the outdoors, pushing themselves and those around them and squeezing as much fun out of work as possible.

Role Description

With responsibility for delivering all of Threshold's events, the event logistics team is the bedrock of Threshold's work. Whether it's taking one celebrity on an incredible journey for our epic Sport Relief challenges, or working out how to get a thousand cyclists from one end of Britain to the other, the logistics team are tasked with coming up with the nitty-gritty details that make it all happen.

Those working in the logistics team are responsible for the detailed planning and live delivery of Threshold's events. This means working out how all elements of an event will tie together, down to the smallest details. It means being proactive with suppliers to make sure everything will arrive in the right place at the right time and at the right price. And it means managing live events to ensure that they run like clockwork and uphold the exemplary standard of service that Threshold provides.

Potential Vacancy

We are always on the look out for people to join our logistics team, whether as a fresh-faced graduate or as an experienced events manager. What's important is that you have excellent organisation skills, both from behind a desk and in the middle of a field, with a great attention to detail and an ability to find innovative solutions to the live event problems you will inevitably face. You'll need to possess strong leadership skills and be a confident decision maker, as well as being able to work well within a team. It's also crucial that you're able to keep calm in an emergency, and that you can still operate at your best when cold, wet and tired after days of camping.

Key skills:

- Calm under pressure
- Outstanding attention to detail
- Excellent team player with good leadership skills
- Ability to assess problems, make recommendations and act decisively.
- Strong logistical thinker with excellent project management skills
- Hard working and diligent
- Resilient and determined
- Ability to cost up projects and manage an event budget
- Process high level computer skills especially with Excel
- Comfortable in the outdoors and happy to camp
- Able to maintain high spirits, even in the midst of a downpour

Applying

If you're interested in applying to work with Threshold Sports then there are three things you need to do.

Firstly, have a look at our values to see if you fit the bill. If you are unable to access this link, please copy and paste the following link into a browser: <http://bit.ly/1mZPjgl>

Secondly, write a short covering letter, identifying how you meet the above criteria, and why you would want to work at Threshold.

Thirdly, send it in with your CV to info@thresholdsports.co.uk making sure to tell us when you'll be available. We don't hire throughout the year, but we'll keep you on file and get back to you if something comes up that might be of interest.